Moonachie Families & Friends –

On Friday afternoon the Governor and the New Jersey Department of Education released a document containing guidelines to re-opening schools for September. The document is extensive in information and resources.

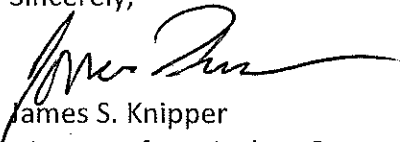

Please know that the leadership team, department committees, and the District Restart Committee is reviewing the document and its recommendations and guidelines as guidance for our planning.

The health and safety of our students and staff is our number-one concern. However, we are not health experts. We must rely on the guidance, based on science and data, from the CDC and the Health Department when making our plans to reopen in September. I am committed to developing plans that ensure the safety of all and that are flexible and adaptive.

Please expect further updates in the near future as we work through this document and our committees develop our plans forward, together.

Stay Safe. Stay Healthy.

Sincerely,

James S. Knipper
Director of Curriculum & Instruction, Moonachie School District
